

We are looking for Research Volunteers for a new study at University of Southern California

Are you at least age 55 and have a mild memory complaint?

This study evaluates performance on a new computerized task of common daily activities that require thinking and memory. You will also be asked to complete other tablet based thinking and attention tasks.

- This study will have a baseline visit and a 6-month follow-up visit.
- You are required to have a study partner who knows you well and can answer questions about your memory & daily activities.
- You and your study partner will be paid for your study participation.

For more details or to find out if you may be eligible, please contact:
Nadine Diaz, DSW at 323-442-7600 or email adrc@med.usc.edu